

MESSAGE FROM THE EXECUTIVE DIRECTOR

As we continue to strengthen our administrative and organizational teams, we have also been solidifying our plans for revised 2020 programming and fundraising due to Covid. It has been so humbling to see how everyone - staff, Board Members, community partners and supporters - have all stepped up in ways I couldn't have imagined a year ago, and it is with the help of each of you that Lyrica Baroque continues to perform, educate, collaborate and thrive. As always, you have my deepest gratitude for your dedication!

We added two new members to the Lyrica Baroque team in September!

- CHRISTOPHER HALL joins us as our part time bookkeeper. His expertise in nonprofit work and experience as the Head Accountant for Preservation Resource Center will further strengthen our administrative structure.
- WINFRED FELTON joins the team as Lyrica Baroque's Communications Intern working mainly with Izzie Keim, Social Media Director. Winfred is in his third year studying bassoon performance at the University of North Carolina School of the Arts.

PROGRAMMING UPDATE

We are busy working on two of Lyrica Baroque's signature programs: Winterreise and NOLA Chamber Fest 2021. Both will look very different than years past, but we are so excited that both will be taking place. With the change in formats, we are able to expand our reach beyond those who have been able to join us in-person in the past. With both having a virtual feature, you can join us wherever you are!

- WINTERREISE will be live streamed on Thursday, December 17 at 7 PM. The event, as always, is free to the public and programming will feature a vocally inspired program of chamber music including heartwarming selections reflective of the season. It is sure to be a beautiful and memorable performance keeping the tradition going that so many enjoy.
- NOLA CHAMBER FEST 2021 was announced at the beginning of the month to an overwhelming response! We have an expanded and much more streamlined registration process. Follow all the latest on the dedicated NOLA Chamber Fest 2021 Facebook and Instagram pages.
